If you really did it. Did you have help? Was it a girl? What was your reason? You opened the doors for all of these questions and the least I feel you can do is answer them. If this is bothering you and you need to get it off your shoulder talk about it.

I think it definitely is possible that he/she could have moved Laci and Connor's bodies without being seen.....because no one saw Scott "dumping" the bodies either. Plus, there was someone very suspicious seen in the vicinity of where the bodies were found. Remember the person on the raft in the bay in the middle of the night?

I'm guessing that the person who killed Laci had the "stomach" to move a couple of decaying bodies in order to save their own butt and not get caught with a couple of bodies in their back yard.

Patticake, you're probably right that "I killed Laci Peterson" is pulling everyone's leg here. Myself, I'm just having fun with it because the posts are so ridiculous. But, still, can't dismiss the serious possibility that "I killed Laci Peterson" is the real killer.

Predawn raft sighting baffles Bay searchers
By Guy Ashley
CONTRA COSTA TIMES
Posted on Wed, Feb. 12, 2003

SAN FRANCISCO - A predawn sighting of a man in a wetsuit steering a motorized raft toward the Bay Bridge on Tuesday sparked a massive multi-agency effort to explain a report that raised grave homeland-security concerns.

But after nine hours of searching San Francisco Bay with boats and a pair of helicopters, officials could offer little to explain the sighting.

The search began soon after 3 a.m., when the captain of the Alameda-based tugboat Polaris telephoned the U.S. Coast Guard to say his boat had nearly collided with a 10-foot Zodiac-style raft about a mile south of the Bay Bridge.

The tugboat's captain reported that the raft was skippered by a man in a wetsuit with a snorkel, but the vessel disappeared into the darkness before contact could be made, said U.S. Coast Guard Capt. Neil Buschman, commanding officer for the agency's San Francisco station.

A massive search was launched, Buschman said, in large part due to the heightened terrorist alert the government issued just four days earlier.

A 41-foot rescue boat was sent onto the Bay, as well as a fleet of Coast Guard cutters. Two helicopters hovered overhead in search of the elusive raft.

Crews from the state Department of Transportation were sent below the bridge deck to search for signs of tampering, and similar inspections were performed along the periphery of the Golden Gate Bridge and the San Francisco waterfront.

Buschman said nothing suspicious was found. Nor did anything turn up that could explain what someone would be doing buzzing about the Bay in a rubber raft at 3 a.m.

The tugboat is owned by Seaway Towing Co. of Alameda, and was returning from a job in Crockett when its captain saw the raft whiz past northbound.

"This raft had no lights, which looked fairly suspicious," said Dale Kline, Seaway's general manager.

"The guy (on the raft) is either incredibly stupid or he was trying to hide something. Given the world we live in, post-9/11, we actually have trained our employees to be on the lookout for anything that appears strange."

The CHP has been conducting random truck searches throughout the Bay Area, including inspections of big rigs approaching the Bay Bridge, since the level orange alert was announced last Friday.

Other landmarks have been under heightened security since the threat level was increased, reportedly on information that populated areas might be targeted in a terrorist attack.

Still, Kline was one of several people who said he believed activities other than terrorism could explain the raft's presence in the shadow of the bridge. Kline said he knows of some people who commute to work by boat on the Bay.

"It could be someone out poaching sturgeon or kingfish," said Carrie Wilson, fisheries biologist for the state Department of Fish and Game in Monterey. "It's not that unusual for poaching to be going on out on the Bay."

Added Kline: "It was definitely suspicious, but it's not like it would stop me from commuting across the bridge."

However, I believe I read somewhere else that this person heard about the search for him and called in to confirm that it was him. I don't have a reference to this as I said I heard, I'll see if I can find anything else on it. He was apparently heading in the direction of where the bodies were found, but considering that the bodies were only found 2 months later, he wasn't dumping them at that stage. If he was involved, he may have been involved in moving the bodies. Eeew!

Sept 4: Post by Solve ok IKLP, I have a minute here this morning to address you. First let me say, I have no idea if you are who I think you might be or not. My post is such to find out, and you answer that I am a fool. I am a fool ONLY if you are Laci's killer...however, I am not THAT big of a fool. If you are truly Laci's killer you will understand what I have to say; if you are not, then it will not matter one way or another, other than at that point you shall be the fool, for you will not understand the core of the apple, right?

Now listen, if you know me well, you have not a thing to be concerned about...if you don't know me well and you are the killer, you will freak; if you know me well and are not the killer, then you are the fool, if you don't know me well and are not the killer, then you have something to learn if you are interested in this case at all.

First let me tell you that there are many chicken houses in the world, but only one or two concern me. Let me tell you that california is a big state among other things. Let me tell you that if you climb to the top of the mountain you will find a place where "some of them are killers". Let me tell you that carp float in dead water. Let me go on....

There once was 7 saints, so very close, they followed a carpenter and to Paradise they went. They were not Shy, but they were much as such. They all went to a place that did not exist, and this is a way that became fast, so to the back door they came a knockin'.

Three wives in one room makes for no wives at all. But then you have your dog, the new terrier. Would I ever harm your dog in any way, of course not, nor anyone around your dog. why? because you know that I would never, just the way it is. However, you have to turn right; someone has taken your seat; you need to remove them.

123 abc, 12 is a dozen, one is many; yes I knew, mark my words, read your words, all 60-70 of them. Try 1920 of them; how many? From where do they speak; Renegades that we are, we do we go...You know where it began; I also do, is that important, yes, very, do we ever change, no...so don't change... you know what is right and what is wrong with this picture...Painting it the way you like without respect makes you the fool. What if I should write a letter and put it in a bottle and float it in the Bay; Can't you get a clue, this is not the way.

Personal actions bring disgrace. Youngster that you are not; not only the old fade away. Here is the bottomline.

Scott is sitting in prison on death row for something he did not do. Is this my concern, yes...why? because you know how I feel about that kind of thing... first and foremost...the rest of it... not my concern.

Get this mess fixed!

Fore when thou falls on thy knees before thee.

Thee will learn more than it will ever need. All those who number two hundred or more. Apologize now to thee it will open the door. Thou all show thee the respect fore it is deserved. From thee thou will say the words you need to be heard. Thee will give thou a location where thou can find more. So close to an entrance in front of a door. Fore this to occur all two hundred apologize to thee. It is then what you seek you will finally see. Thou to be forewarned this day before you respond to thee. Any negatives said or directed to thee all the answers will flee.

Fore if thou breaks the code with FreeBird inside. Thee will tell thou where all others now hide. Thou is not very close. Not by photo of a boat. If thou asks why. Turn eyes to the sky. If thou is so slow. Thou will never know. Thou makes fun of thee if it will. Not laughs will stop thees amazing thrills. Zodiac had four but there were many more. Contact made from within the front door. Thous belief of her walk. Is basic stupid talk. Thou never leaves from within. No one witnesses thees sin. When of a state of no attention. It is how thee starts the detention. Travel in plain light. Right in thous sight. Thou never thinks twice. Thee appears so nice. If thou only knew. How much thee laughs at you. The most obvious of all alludes. Passes by right in front of you. Thou has so many wrong guesses. Thee listens learns and progresses. Thou who count not look for thee. Is why thou makes it easy to be free. A last note to thou stuck on a boat. Thee stands on another deck and simply gloats.

Fore let thou believe what they say. Solve will soon come thees way. No not solve speaks thees truth. Only the shall end up reaping the fruit. They send thou laugh toward solve today. Not a friend of thee speaks what is new to say. If thou was so smart as they all rush to explain. The one they call Scott would not have taken the blame.

(my note: Solve was the name of a poster on the board)

Fore Zodiac and thee are not one in the same. Thou watch what they say about Z and his fame. If thou believe Z has not always been free. Then thou is so wrong in what it believe. More than thou will ever know is Z count. Smarts without thou knowing is what Z is about.

Fore as the sun comes to light. Thee seeks what not put up a fight. Tap on the door. Pushed down to the floor. Unable to speak. Bound hands and feet. Open the cupboard doors. Thee search for smores. None to be found. Smack while she lays on the ground. Her dog is let free. Let out by the hand of thee. Thou all fools who are wrong. Thee let the dog be gone. None have a clue. Fore you are all fools.

Fore thee says again. To both women and men. If thou open its eyes and look beyond the not found signs. Thee has already given thou a look to the fools minds. If thou are as smart as it is always ready to claim. It would have broken the code and doused thees hot flame. Thou it is clear you cannot get past what you see in the mirror. Look deep into the reflection and see what it is thou should fear.
